Regional Market Performance

The latest quarterly regional report analyses 25 of Australia's largest non-capital city regions, examining performance across both house and unit markets over the 12 months to October 2021.

Houses

Australia's 25 largest non-capital city regions all saw an increase in house values over the year to October 2021. The Southern Highlands and Shoalhaven region in New South Wales was the best performing, with an annual growth rate in house values of 35.9 per cent, followed by the Richmond - Tweed region in northern New South Wales (32.8 per cent) and Queensland's Sunshine Coast which recorded an annual growth rate of 32.3 per cent. At the other end of the scale, Queensland's Townsville region saw the lowest yearly growth rate for houses, increasing by just 8.0 per cent.

The New England and North West region (NSW) saw the largest change in sales volumes, with house sales across the region increasing 77.1 per cent over the year to August 2021. This is followed by Bunbury in Western Australia (66.3 per cent) and Wide Bay in Queensland (62.3 per cent). Meanwhile, of the 25 regions included in this report, the Launceston and North East region in Tasmania recorded the lowest increase in house sales over the 12 months to August (4.3 per cent), followed by the Illawarra region in New South Wales (15.8 per cent).

The quickest selling regions for houses were the Gold Coast (Qld), Sunshine Coast (Qld) and Ballarat (Vic), where the median time on market was 18 days over the 12 months to October 2021. The region with the longest days on market over the year was the New England and North West region (NSW) where houses are taking around 62 days to sell. The Hume region in Victoria is offering the lowest discount to secure a sale (with a median discount rate of -1.9 per cent), while the highest discounts are being offered across the Townsville region (Qld) with vendors offering a median discount rate of -4.5 per cent in order to secure a sale.

Across Australia's regional unit market, Queensland's Wide Bay region recorded an annual growth rate of 29.2 per cent in October 2021, making it the best performing unit market, followed closely by the Sunshine Coast region, also in Queensland (29.1 per cent). At the other end of the scale, Queensland's Townsville region saw the lowest yearly growth in unit values (3.4 per cent), followed by the Mackay-Isaac-Whitsunday region (4.4 per cent).

Queensland saw some of the largest increases in unit sales over the year to August, with sales volumes for units increasing by 119.9 per cent across Central Queensland, 99.7 per cent in Toowoomba, 98.7 per cent in Mackay-Isaac-Whitsunday and 88.9 per cent in Townsville. The largest increase in sales volumes outside of regional Queensland was in Bunbury, Western Australia (86.2 per cent). Tasmania's Launceston and North East region was the only unit market in this report to see a decline in sales volumes, dropping -5.3 per cent over the 12 months to August 2021.

Units across the Launceston and North East region are currently selling quicker than any other region with the median time on market sitting at 13 days over the year to October, followed by Ballarat, Vic (21 days) and Illawarra, NSW (22 days). Meanwhile, Central Queensland and Bunbury (WA) units are taking the longest time to sell with the median time on market sitting at 58 days for both regions. The Townsville region (Qld) is offering the largest discounts in order to secure a sale (with a median discount rate of -5.0 per cent), while the lowest discounts are being offered across the Mid North Coast region in New South Wales (with the median discount rate at -1.3 per cent).

About CoreLogic

CoreLogic Asia Pacific (CoreLogic) is a leading, independent provider of property data and analytics. We help people build better lives by providing rich, up-to-the-minute property insights that inform the very best property decisions.

With an extensive breadth and depth of knowledge gathered over the last 30 years, we provide services across a wide range of industries, including Banking & Finance, Real Estate, Government, Insurance and Construction. Our diverse, innovative solutions help our clients identify and manage growth opportunities, improve performance and mitigate risk. We also operate consumer-facing portals - onthehouse.com.au and properytvalue.com.au - providing important insights for people looking to buy or sell their home or investment property.

We are a wholly owned subsidiary of CoreLogic, Inc – one of the largest data and analytics companies in the world with offices in Australia, New Zealand, the United States and United Kingdom.

Granular Data and Analytics Driving Growth in your Business

CoreLogic produces an advanced suite of housing market analytics that provides key insights for understanding housing market conditions at a granular geographic level. Granular data is often used for portfolio analysis and benchmarking, risk assessments and understanding development feasibility and market sizing. It gives industry professionals valuable modules which provide essential analytics and insights for decision making and strategy formation within the residential property asset class. We can tailor reports to suit your business requirements.
